LAKE NORMAN / CORNELIUS

West Paces Lakefront Renovation

A complete transformation of a remarkable ranch home

A sweeping lakeside setting in Cornelius

PROJECT | Full-gut renovation TIMELINE | About six months SETTING | Lake Norman

A bold renovation on an extraordinary lot

This Cornelius ranch had one of the most spectacular lots on Lake Norman I have ever seen. The house needed a complete reset, beginning with significant structural issues that had to be addressed before the renovation could move forward.

We took the home down to the studs and rebuilt it as a high-end renovation, shaping the finished spaces around the exceptional waterfront setting. From the bright, detailed kitchen to the open living area oriented toward the lake, the transformation paired a fresh interior with the property's defining view.

The project took about six months from start to finish. A buyer joined the process early, and we worked closely with them throughout the renovation. They fell in love with the home, lived there for several years, and later chose to sell when the market had surged, realizing a wonderful return on their investment.
